SPECIAL SECTION NUMBER ONE

MAJOR EVENTS IN THE HISTORY OF 'LORD SNOOTY'

BEANO number and date

Event

- No. 1 (30.7.38) First appearance of Lord Snooty (Lord Marmaduke of Bunkerton), his Aunt Mat (Matilda) and his original Ash Can Alley Pals, Hairpin Huggins, Skinny Lizzie, Scrapper Smith, Happy Hutton and Gertie the Goat. All were drawn by Dudley Watkins.
- No. 11 (8.10.38) First appearance of Snooty's arch adversaries the Gasworks Gang, known as the Toughs from Gas Lane.
- No. 18 (26.11.38) First appearance of Snitch and Snatch (in the early strips depicted as toddlers, hence the strange one-piece romper suits they have worn ever since).
- No. 40 (29.4.39) First recognizable appearance of Professor Screwtop, the inventor whose inventions over the years would include 'Grow Big Lotion' and 'The Gas of Truth'. (Screwtop would also eventually turn up occasionally in the 'Biffo the Bear' strip).
- No. 76 (6.1.40) The 'Snooty' strip goes to war (it would eventually feature more war-orientated stories than any other D.C. Thomson comic strip).
- No. 170 (3.1.42) A seemingly unique event occurs when regular Snooty artist, the legendary Dudley Watkins, draws himself into Snooty's weekly comic strip.
- No. 272 (1.12.45) The first reprinted 'Snooty' strip appears.
- No. 292 (7.9.46) Dudley Watkins appends his initials to the 'Snooty' strip for the first time.
- No. 293 (21.9.46) Dudley Watkins appends his signature to the 'Snooty' strip for the first time.
- No. 367 (30.7.49) The first series of 'Lord Snooty' ends.
- No. 440 (23.12.50) The second 'Lord Snooty' series begins, the first episode of which sees the final appearance of old pals Hairpin Huggins, Skinny Lizzie, Happy Hutton and Gertie the Goat.
- No. 441 (30.12.50) Some old BEANO favourites join Snooty's gang, namely Big Fat Joe, Doubting Thomas, Swanky Lanky Liz, Polly Wolly Doodle and her dog Pongo, and Contrary Mary the Moke.
- No. 678 (16.7.55) Appearance of the first 'Snooty' strip drawn by Leo Baxendale.
- No. 732 (28.7.56) Last original 'Snooty' strip signed by Dudley Watkins.
- No. 734 (11.8.56) Last original 'Snooty' strip drawn by Leo Baxendale appears.
- No. 787 (17.8.57) Appearance of the first 'Snooty' strip drawn by Albert Holroyd.
- No. 811 (1.2.58) End of the second 'Lord Snooty' series.
- No. 812 (8.2.58) A 'Snooty' spin-off strip begins, titled 'A funny thing happened the other day', drawn by Albert Holroyd.
- No. 818 (22.3.58) 'A funny thing happened the other day' ends.
- No. 904 (14.11.59) Third and current 'Lord Snooty' series begins, originally featuring reprints.
- No. 1137 (2.5.64) Start of a new series of 'Snooty' strips drawn by Dudley Watkins, which carries on from the reprint series.
- No. 1337 (2.3.68) First appearance of a 'Lord Snooty' strip drawn by Robert Nixon.
- No. 1345 (27.4.68) Last original 'Snooty' strip drawn by Dudley Watkins.
- No. 1536 (25.12.71) First appearance of Angus the Bunkerton Stag.

Snooty's weekly appearances in THE BEANO

Contrary to the impression sometimes given, Snooty has not been an ever-present character during the first fifty years of THE BEANO's run, although admittedly he is the character who has come closest to achieving ever-present status. For the record, including reprints, Lord Snooty has appeared in 2262 of the 2424 BEANOs published up to the end of 1988. He did not appear in issue nos. 368-439, 819-903, and nos. 913, 921, 928, 967 and 1026.

THE LORD SNOOTY REPRINTS OF DUDLEY WATKINS

The following BEANO 'Lord Snooty' strips were reprints of earlier material. Their reprint history is as follows. (Note: x = Christmas issue appearance; r = partially redrawn).

SECOND SERIES REPRINTS

All of the 1950s Snooty reprints in the second series were partially redrawn. This was done to include the new members of Snooty's gang present in the second series and eradicate the old members from the first series. None of the redrawing was by Dudley Watkins; most was by Albert Holroyd.

THIRD SERIES REPRINTS

Between its inception in No. 904 and up to No. 1136 the third Snooty series was all reprint (with the exception of No. 1064), with most strips being reprinted as originally published and no redrawing necessary. Some strips, however, were edited to allow quarter-page advertisements for other Thomson comics to appear on the Snooty page. Issue Nos. 904 - 912 were printed in red and black instead of the usual black and white.

No. 2373 (9.1.88)	Last solo 'Rasher' strip published.

'The Wee Fella' - a footnote

The eponymous hero of this strip has in the past sometimes been cited as a prototype of Dennis. But while he did pre-date Dennis (he appeared in THE PEOPLE'S JOURNAL from April 20th 1946 to February 6th 1954), and was drawn by the same artist - David Law - he was if anything much more a prototype of 'Baby Crockett', the naive, ingenious BEEZER comic favourite for over thirty years as drawn by Bill Ritchie.

THE DENNIS THE MENACE BOOKS

Since September 1955 eighteen DENNIS THE MENACE BOOKS have been published, usually at the rate of one every two years. The contents of these books have in the main been reprints from the weekly BEANO or, to some extent, reprints from THE WEEKLY NEWS. The half-tabloid WEEKLY NEWS strips were in some cases restructured to fit a single page in the books.

What follows is a list of the contents, both new and reprint, of all eighteen Dennis Books. All reprints are from THE BEANO unless otherwise indicated. Abbreviations used are as follows: WN = WEEKLY NEWS, (f) = feature, (s) = story, (p) = poems, (j) = jokes.

Footnote 1: Bash Street in THE WIZARD

The boys' story paper WIZARD featured the prose story adventures of The Bash Street Kids under the title 'Bash Street School' in WIZARD Nos. 1522 (16.4.55) to No. 1554 (26.11.55), with heading block illustrations for the stories being drawn by regular Bash Street artist Leo Baxendale.

Running to between 1 and 1.5 pages each week, this series was of considerable interest as it put some flesh on the bones, so to speak, of the the regular BEANO strip. The WIZARD information not disclosed in THE BEANO was as follows:

The School

- Bash Street School's full title was Bash Street Junior Secondary Modern School situated in the town of Northport

Pupils in Form IIC

- Sidney Pye (Sid in BEANO) narrated THE WIZARD stories
- Kate Pye (Toots in BEANO) was Sidney's sister
- Tweetie Wilson (no counterpart in BEANO) was the class sneak
- Fatty Brown (Fatty in BEANO)
- Gasbag Jones, Foghorn Reid, Bulgy Buchan, Clueless Courtenay, Toffy Hughes and Potty Pettie (no counterparts in BEANO)
- Deathhead Danny Morgan (Danny in BEANO)
- Wilfred and Smiffy (as in BEANO)

Bash Street School staff

- IIC Form Master was known as Mr Snorer 'Sleepy Sam' (Teacher in BEANO)
- Gym Master was known as Beaky Parrot (no counterpart in BEANO)
- Janitor was known as 'Bull' Carr, an ex-guards sergeant-major (Janitor in BEANO)

As well as the regular weekly prose stories the Bash Street characters also appeared in two full-colour strips on the front cover of WIZARD in No. 1536 (23.7.55) and No. 1547 (8.10.55), both drawn by Leo Baxendale.

Footnote No. 2: Percival Proudfoot Plugsley

In his own gravure comic Plug was drawn, as already stated, by David Gudgeon and also by Doug Jensen. In his solo exploits Plug, along with his equally-ugly (or handsome depending on taste) pet monkey Chunkee, was portrayed as a sporting supergoon. Furthermore, during the comic's 75-isse run, for a small outlay of 35 pence you could join the Plug Sports and Social Club.

THE BASH STREET KIDS BOOKS

Between 1979 and 1989 six separate editions of THE BASH STREET KIDS BOOK have been published. All contained a mixture of new and reprint material printed in full colour. Details of these are as follows:

BERYL THE PERIL MEETS THE BASH STREET KIDS

In the 1977 edition of THE BERYL THE PERIL BOOK a special reprint section was devoted to the Bash Street Kids, containing five reprinted strips from THE BEANO. All reprints were printed in red and black and drawn by Dave Sutherland (except the title page 'Beryl Meets the Bash Street Kids', which was drawn by John Dallas). The reprints as they appeared were taken respectively from the following BEANO Nos: 1120 (4.1.64), 1125 (8.2.64), 1124 (1.2.64), 1126 (15.2.64), 1127 (22.2.64).

LIBRARIES*and other publicationsTHE BEANO COMIC LIBRARY

The pocket-sized (5 and a half inches x 6 and seven-eighths inches) BEANO COMIC LIBRARIES have been published at the rate of two a month since April 1982, each 68-page issue featuring a single long complete strip.

What follows is a list of the 186 BEANO COMIC LIBRARIES published to 31 December 1989, with the title, starring character(s) and artist for each issue where this information is known. The comic of origin is given if the character is from outside THE BEANO.

REVERSE OF THE POSTER

The reverse of the fiftieth anniversary poster features the following memorable moments from THE BEANO:

1. BEANO cover stars

Big Eggo (1938), Biffo the Bear (1948), Dennis the Menace and Gnasher (1974).

2. First issue features

Dennis the Menace (1951), Roger the Dodger (1953), Minnie the Minx (1953), When the Bell Rings [The Bash Street Kids] (1954).

3. Historic meeting

The first meeting of Dennis the Menace and Gnasher (1968).

THE MAGIC OF THE BEANO STICKER ALBUM

Price 35p; page count 40 (including covers); published October 1989 by Merlin Stickers

The full album contains 224 stickers, featuring most BEANO characters including twelve special 'stick and lift' stickers that each feature two characters. Stickers for the album are available in packs of five at a cost of 12 pence per packet.

THE BEANO-DANDY CONNECTION

Between November 1986 and March 1988 THE DANDY COMIC ran a series of one-line black and white strips under the title 'Comic Outs', drawn by George Martin. Readers were asked to write in and say which Thomson comic characters they would like to see featured in the series and THE BEANO characters included were as follows:

Character	Issues of DANDY in which characters featured
General Jumbo	2381
Dennis the Menace	2382
Jonah	2385, 2386, 2389, 2405, 2407

Little Plum	2391, 2392, 2404, 2407
Billy the Cat	2396, 2404, 2409, 2415

THE BEST OF BEEZER

THE BEST OF BEEZER is published simultaneously with THE BEST OF TOPPER and follows exactly the same format, page count, price, etc., except that most of its reprints come from THE BEEZER COMIC. BEANO reprints in the five issues published to 31 December 1989, again from the 1940s, 1950s and 1960s, are as follows:

THE BEANO PUZZLE BOOK AND THE DANDY CARTOON BOOK

These were first published each at the rate of one a month, starting in July 1987 and continuing to the present. THE BEANO PUZZLE BOOK features characters from THE BEANO and other Thomson comics as part of various puzzles, whilst THE DANDY CARTOON BOOK contains single-page cartoons featuring various characters from Thomson comics including THE BEANO. Both publications are edited by Graham Noble, have a page count of 68, and measure 5.5 inches x 6 and seven-eighths inches.

SUPER MAG

SUPER MAG, edited by David Donaldson, was a one-off comic publication appearing in 1986. It was priced at 80p, measured 19 cm x 27.5 cm and had 44 pages in full-colour. SUPER MAG contained three cartoons, one of which featured a BEANO character, and was published simultaneously with two other similar items - one for boys and the other for girls - titled respectively 'Tracker's Death Run' and 'Where is Wendy?'

Editor: David Donaldson

Contents

1. 'The Long Way Home', featuring Dennis the Menace and Gnasher, and drawn by Barrie Appleby
2. 'The Case of the Singing Bank Robber', featuring Nick Kelly from TOPPER, and drawn by Brian Walker
3. 'Zob', on the back page, drawn by Gordon Bell

Artists and their Work

This is an alphabetical index of artists and their work for THE BEANO. Under each artist's name is a list of his work that has been published in the weekly comic, annual or summer special. Separated by a line underneath that is an index of the puzzles that the same artist has drawn for an annual only (or a summer special where (ss) is indicated).

Note: Artists whose weekly comic character appeared in annuals or summer specials under a different title are not included (e.g. Jack Glass' annual appearance of 'King on the Flying Horse' (1950) is not given due to the artist having drawn 'Prince on the Flying Horse' in weekly format in 1940). Appearances in the weekly comic therefore take precedence over appearances in the annual or summer special.

Index

This is an index of the characters, features and puzzles that have appeared in THE BEANO comic, annuals and summer specials. The names of each character appear in alphabetical order, followed by the page number(s) where the listing can be found in THE BEANO DIARIES.

A character without (a) or (ss) after it indicates that strip's first appearance in the comic. The page numbers of any appearance by that character in the annual and/or summer special are not given as the reader will be able to gain this information by turning to the character's listing in THE BEANO DIARIES.

A character with an (a) or (ss) after it indicates that it appeared only in the annual and/or the summer special, and was not featured in the comic. The page number of each appearance in the annual and/or summer special is given.

All features and puzzles in the annuals and summer specials are included where an artist is known.

- (a) = annual(s)
 (ss) = summer special(s)
 (f/p) = feature or puzzle
